

B8 SERVICES CASE STUDY

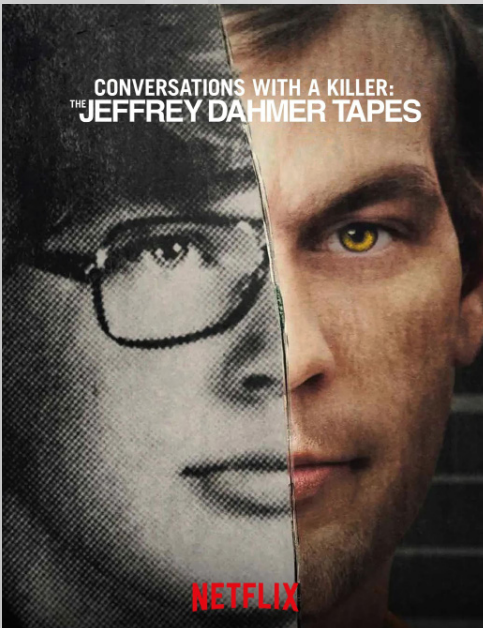

Project: The Jeffrey Dahmer Tapes

ENGAGEMENT DETAILS

In 2019, Buffalo 8 began working with two independent producers living outside of Los Angeles who had initial access to some of the Jeffrey Dahmer criminal case files. Among the files were never-before-heard audio recordings of Dahmer and his attorney, Jerry Pass, preparing for trial.

Buffalo 8 worked with the producing team to develop a teaser trailer for the project and begin shopping efforts for a series exploring the unseen archives and audio files. By early 2020, Buffalo 8 had secured a producing partnership agreement with Radical Media and director Joe Berlinger to oversee the production for Netflix (where Radical Media and Berlinger have a longstanding first-look partnership.)

The project evolved into a three-part docuseries as a chapter of the Netflix franchise: Conversation With a Killer. Premiering in October 2022, the project remained in the Netflix top-10 for more than a month and was released side-by-side with the Ryan Murphy narrative project on Jeffrey Dahmer. Buffalo 8 was able to take the project from the initial concept stage through to one of the largest unscripted TV releases of 2022.

“Never-before-heard audio interviews between Dahmer and his defense team.”

- Netflix